Historical Landmark: Adirondack General Store and Liquor Store Seeking Next Steward to Carry on Century-Old Community Legacy

ADIRONDACK, NY – The historic Adirondack General Store and attached Liquor Store, a cornerstone of the Schroon Lake region since 1855, is officially seeking a new owner to carry forward its rich heritage. After years of serving as a vital hub for locals and a beloved destination for travelers, this landmark property is ready for a new chapter of stewardship.

Established over 165 years ago as a general mercantile, the Adirondack General Store has remained one of the oldest and most authentic general stores in the Adirondack Park. Nestled on the east shore of Schroon Lake, the store has evolved into a multi-faceted business that balances "old-world charm with modern twists." It remains a "must-visit" landmark for those seeking authentic North Country hospitality and high-quality local goods.

A Legacy of Community and Service

The sale includes not just a retail space, but a thriving community institution known for:

- Historic Authenticity: A preserved 19th-century building featuring original hardwood floors, a classic "Groceries, Meats & Cold Beer" sign, and an atmosphere that transports visitors back to a slower pace of life.
- Diverse Revenue Streams: The property functions as a full-service deli, a popular breakfast and lunch café, a grocery provider, and a curated gift shop featuring local Adirondack crafts, syrups, and souvenirs. Additionally, the Adirondack Liquor Store, a modern, successful spirits shop located directly next door, provides essential convenience for the lakeside community and seasonal tourists.
- Local Partnerships: The store is a proud supplier of regional specialties, including products such as syrups, jams, honey, local artisanal cheeses, and handmade goods from local North Country crafters.
- Turnkey Operation: The sale offers a rare opportunity for an entrepreneur or family to step into a fully operational business with a loyal customer base and a deep-rooted reputation for quality and hospitality.

Preserving the Adirondack Spirit

"This isn't just a business; it's the heart of the hamlet," says the current owner, Diane Cain. "The Adirondack General Store has been a place for neighbors to catch up by the woodstove and for families to stock up for their lake adventures for generations. We are looking for someone who appreciates the history of this place and wants to maintain its role as a community anchor."

The property is situated at 899 East Shore Drive, Adirondack, NY, offering a scenic and high-visibility location for both seasonal tourists and year-round residents.
